ROYAL FEELINGS

Queen Sue 'Happy, Thankful, Surprised' at Regal Honor

"Now I know exactly how a queen feels," recalled pretty Sue Shinkel. "She is very happy, thankful, and extremely surprised."

Lovely Sue experienced the dream of every girl when she wore the crown of beauty Friday night.

"I spent the entire day before the game babysitting my little nephew. I'll never forget the expression on his face when he touched the netting of my formal for he had never seen a gown. I remember his startled expression most when considering the events that happened to me before the big night," Sue related.

Because of nervousness, Sue had lost her appetite for the week. But after the game she "ate like a horse!" An after-celebration was held at the home of Cliff Hutter and it was there that she suddenly realized she was queen.

"It seems as if a hundred kids came and congratulated me," Sue remembered.

Queens usually experience an embarrassing moment and Sue was no exception. Her "blushing time" came when she was ready to be crowned at the dance. A mere trip on her dress interfered with her queenly composure.

"Through all the suspense and joys involved, I am so happy and especially thankful to all for the wonderful honor," Sue concluded.

Hamilton to Attend CACS Convention

Lloyd Hamilton, SAC business manager will attend the California Association of College Stores convention in San Francisco, December 1-4.

The store managers will exchange ideas and discuss problems. Vendors will show new items of interest to college bookstores. Committees will handle individual problems of the bookstore managers. Policies will also be discussed.

Wilton Hotel Site of Dance

Breaking the usual tradition of having the Holiday Formal dance in the Student Union, social commissioner Ardith Munro announced this week that the 1959 dance will be held in the Skyline Room of the Wilton Hotel in Long Beach.

The date has been switched from Dec. 5 to Dec. 4 and the dance is slated to run from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Furnishing the music will be the regular musical group employed by the Wilton Hotel, the Bob Calloway Trio.

Ticket prices have not been established yet but are expected to be under $3, according to Miss Munro.

'Fashion Fantasy' to Feature Latest Styles for Women

Clothes from Pickwicks will highlight "Fashion Fantasy," a dinner and fashion show, to be held November 18 in the student cafeteria at 6 p.m.

Dinner will be prepared by the SAC Cafeteria staff and served by the sponsoring club, Las Gitanas. The dinner tables will be decorated with unusual center pieces to carry out the autumn theme.

Models

The original eight homecoming queen candidates, Ardith Munro, Della Kahn, Sue Shinkel, Roses Kokx, Carol Smith, Janice Bates and Judy Warnke, will model fashions for all occasions.

Special invitations for the gala event will be extended to Miss Agness T. Miller, Mrs. John E. Johnson, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. John "Sky" Dunlap. A special invitation has also been extended to the manager of Pickwicks.

Clothes from the Fashion Square

Shop will be shown following the serving of coffee and dessert. Door prizes will be given at the close of the evening.

Joan Tammara, Las Gitanas president, will narrate the evening's activities.

Dorothy Tinder is in charge of the decorations while Mrs. Dunlap is in charge of the programs and credits.

Santa Ana College co-eds are cordially invited to extend an invitation to their mothers and friends. Faculty women and the office secretaries are also welcome.

Tickets

Ticket price is $2 per person. They may be purchased from Las Gitanas members and all of the models. They are also being sold in the student union patio from 12-1 daily and in the Don bookstore.

Seven to Attend CJCSGA Meet

Five students and two advisers will attend the 28th semi-annual conference of the California Junior College Student Government Association at Berkeley.

Flying to Berkeley for the weekend of the convention, November 19, 20, and 21 will be Associated Student President, Bill Mott; Vice President, Joan Tammara; Commissioner of Assemblies and Rallies, Larry Keith; Commissioner of Special Student Activities, Jarrell Mauck; and Social Commissioner, Ardith Munro.

Also attending the convention will be Thomas Trawick, Dean of Students and Agness Todd Miller, Associate Dean of Students.

They will stay at the Hotel Claremont while in Berkeley for the convention.

Members of the north, central and south regions of the association will attend the convention. Santa Ana College is a member of the southern region. Roger Jewell of East Los Angeles College is president of the Southern region.

Co-hosting the event are four colleges. The co-hosts are Contra Costa College, Diablo Valley College, Modesto Junior College and Stockton College.

"Leadership Toward International Understanding" is the theme of the CJCSGA convention. Steve Collins is the state president of the group.

While at Berkeley the representatives will attend various workshops on topics relating to college governmental problems.

'Ship-Rec Night' Slated For November 20 in Gym

"We need all the help we can get," said Kay Elliott, freshman representative to the council, in referring to "Ship-Rec" night on Nov. 20 in the gym.

In order to make the "Ship-Rec" night a huge success, members of the freshman class executive board intend to have plenty to eat! Miss Elliott and Skip Shull are arranging this part of the evening.

Bermudas, capris, and sweat shirts will be the royal dress for the festivity.

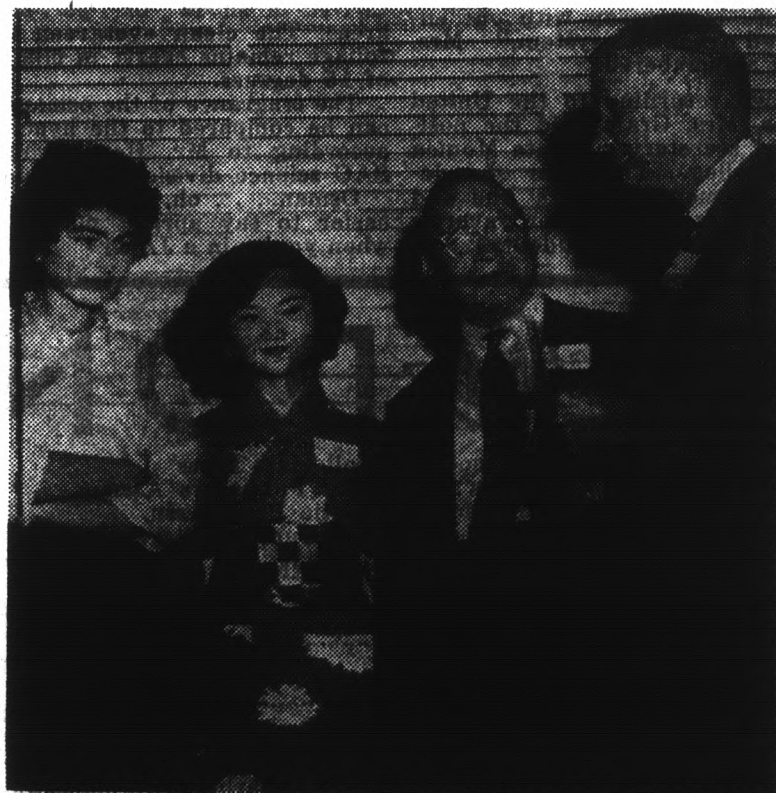

Kay is rounding up as many people as possible to bake a cake or cookies, and contribute to the refreshments for the dance. "This is one of the many ways we will raise money for the freshman class treasury," she continued.

With the exchange of student body ticket No. 12, and 25 cents, Dons will be admitted to Rec night. Guest tickets should be obtained before the dance from the Dean's offices. If the tickets are acquired at the door, the price will be 50 cents.

Betty Gibbs is in charge of decorations for the activity.

Freshman class president Andy Kormos says "We are going to work hard to make this dance really big, with lots of Dons attending."

Pat on the Back

As the football team goes, so goes the spirit of the entire student body. And right now things aren't looking so hot.

But there seems to be one group on campus that is working and working hard to make things go. And that is the student council.

Singling out the members and not meaning to overlook anybody we extend a special "tip of the hat" to Misses Ardith Munro, Linda Bright, and Mrs. Joan Tammaro. And to some of the gentlemen also really putting out. They include Larry Keith, Alan Leonard, Jarrell Mauck, Don Bissonnette, Willie Sprague and Jose Cuervo. Freshman president Andy Kormos and his group are also to be congratulated for making the freshman class one of the best in recent years.

Perhaps the most active person on the board is Miss Munro. Ardith contacted nearly 30 establishments in looking for the right spot for the holiday formal and has been highly responsible for the success of each dance held thus far.

Secretary Anna Lou Brewer and president Bill Mott are also to be commended.

Although general spirit is at a low tide, the executive board is on the job trying to boost the standing of the college.

With the cooperation of the entire student body on up coming projects like the float for the Christmas parade, the dance, the assemblies, and the athletic spirit, Santa Ana College will again take it's place at the top of the Eastern Conference.

Courageous Woman Secures Help in Twin Engine Plane

Flying high above billows of clouds in a twin engine Air Force plane, a woman pilot and companion helplessly tried to located the sight of land through an overcast sky.

In desperation, they tripped every instrument lever hoping to get help from the officers below. After many hours in the air, the welcome sight of an Army plane came to the rescue of the frightened women.

The dangerous experience is still alive in the heart of Mrs. Ellen Graff, SAC secretary to the deans.

"As a member of the WASP (Women's Air Force Service Pilot), I encountered many startling experiences such as the above, but still had the desire to work for my country," said Mrs. Graff.

After serving her term in the armed services, Mrs. Graff joined her Army husband in Japan for one year. While there, she became accustomed to the polite way of living which the Japanese exercise.

"We spent our after work hours touring china factories, visiting the shrines, and seeing the beautiful city of Tokyo," Mrs. Graff related.

"Probably the one sight which reminded me most of the United States was the trolley roads . . . a definite comparison with our entangled freeway system," Mrs. Graff remembered.

When returning to the United States, Mrs. Graff held the position of secretary at Santa Monica City College. This year she decided to move to Santa Ana and continue work with her favorite age group, college students.

Morton Gets Ph. D. Award

Latest award winner on the SAC campus is Mrs. Lou Morton, SAC faculty secretary.

After fixing the broken down mimeograph machine last week, Sky Dunlap presented Mrs. Morton with the high honor, Ph. D. in Ink Techniques!

Wouldn't it have been a shame if the machine would have broken down during mid-term tests?

DONS DETECT APRICOT ODOR

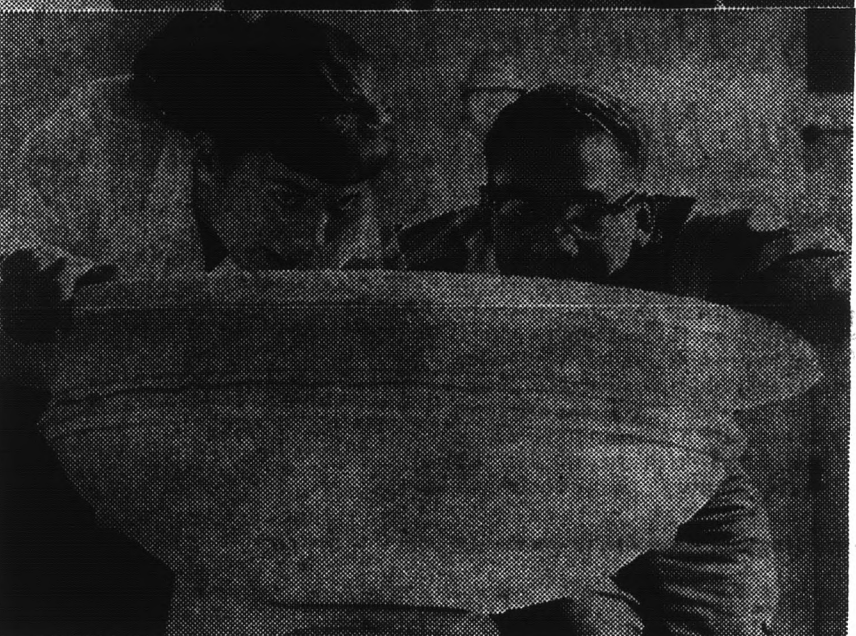

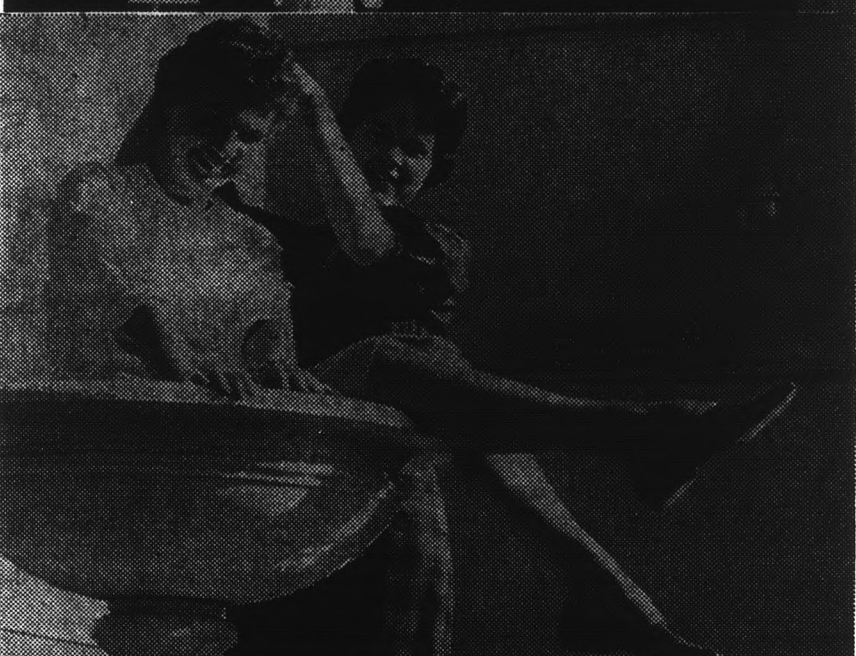

Apricot marmalade could well be described by most students as the delightful odor which is secreted near the administration building.

Actually, it's osmanthus fragrans, a very small flower which thrives in shade or part-shade areas. The clean evergreen type foliage remains hearty in climates of 15 degrees.

The fragrance of the osmanthus can be compared to the hyacinth, according to Mr. Henri Lirette, SAC science division chairman.

Osman . . . oh, well, it's much easier to say apricot marmalade when you're in a JAM!

Students Voice Opinions On Use of Library Bowls

Hematoma, Torn Ligaments Plague Present SAC Attendance Record

Football injuries are the latest plague at Santa Ana College, according to Miss Marie Pound, nurse.

"Just this week there seems to be a rash of aches and pains among the team members," Miss Pound related.

Suffering from a broken rib is Ron Johnson while Tom Dallape is sporting a hematoma (blood clot in the arm). Ben Bryant joins the group with a bruised shoulder.

Jay Stromgren joined the "cast" with a torn ligament in his knee. A large, black eye is the mark of strain for Kent Shebulet. Spraining his ankle at the last game was Chuck Shaw while Fred Rash suffered a bruised leg.

"Most of the other students on campus have been complaining of gastro-intestinal upsets, in other words, ugly flu," said Miss Pound.

The usual absence time is two days with students returning in a far from chipper mood.

Most prevalent among the absences last month was strep throat. Dr. Willis McNelly and his family suffered last month from the common disease.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," so don't attempt football, students!

Many opinions and ideas have been tossed back and forth by the associated students when they pass the newly constructed library, and its new additions.

The new, large white structures fastened to the steps of the library are described in many ways. Here are many of the ways that members of the associated students thought the bowls should be used.

Julie Horton — "Bird Bath."

Becky Rojas — "To catch rain in."

Bob Punt — "Trash bucket."

Marth Venegas — "Planter."

Bud Reeves — "I think they should let the water polo team practice in them."

Jose Cruz — "They should be used as an ash tray."

Janice Bates — "It could be a fountain of youth."

Judy Warnke — "I think someone should put flames in them. Then I could stand by and keep the flames going."

Gwen Thompson — "I guess I'll just sit in them."

Sharron Quinn — "I think they would make swell punch bowls."

Willie Sprague — "They make swell spittoons."

Susan Larsen — "Garbage cans."

Bill Mott — "Personally, I think they went to pot!"

Jose Cuervo — "Fill them with champagne."

When the pipe work is finished the landscaping will continue to the original plans of Harold Gimeno, a popular Santa Ana architect who made the library a gift to the school. Shrubbery and plants will be placed around the new building.

Campus Clubs

INTERCLUB COUNCIL

Five members of ICC, representing a cross section of clubs, have been appointed to the Interclub Council trophy committee.

Members of the committee are Jarrell Mauck representing Knights; Beth Harrison, Lambda Delta Sigma; Barbara Derdzinska, Press Club; Dale Davis, International Club; and Alan Leonard, Engineer's Club.

Under the advisement of Joan Tammaro the committee will evaluate and tabulate the points made by the clubs toward the ICC trophy which will be awarded to the most active club on campus.

ENGINEER'S CLUB

Members of the Engineer's Club toured the Altec-Lansing Corporation, an audio products firm. The future engineers were shown all phases of production, from research to the finished products which include microphones, amplifiers and speakers.

Of particular interest was an acoustically dead room to facilitate calibration of microphones with zero room noise.

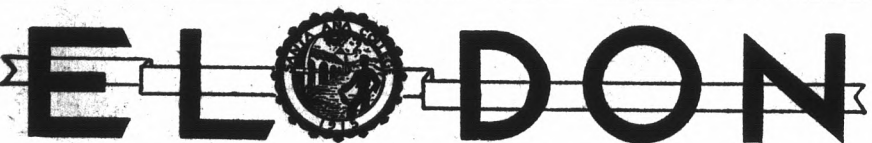

KNIGHTS

New officers for the Knights are Jarrell Mauck, president; and Don Bissonnette, vice president.

Harlan Lawson was elected in as a new member. A meeting was held last week at Jarrell Mauck's.

NEWMAN CLUB

Free coffee and cookies will be given away with each carwash at the Newman sponsored carwash to be held Sunday, November 15, from 9 to four at Lloyd's Douglas Service Station on West 17th.

Council Comments

By Carolyn Bridge

Exhaustion was the result of Tuesday's student council meeting.

Business is coming so thick and fast that the hour allotted for meeting time is not sufficient.

Financial Report

Alan Leonard reported that the student body received $213 from the Homecoming Dance and $62.34 from the sale of Homecoming football programs.

Jarrell Mauck announced that there would be a special meeting of the CJCSCA delegates next Tuesday prior to the council meeting.

Ardith Munro discussed the possibilities of having the Christmas Formal off campus.

Willie Sprague announced that his committee was working on posters for the Bill of Rights contest.

There was no old business.

By - Laws Changed

After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the student government by-laws be changed so that the water polo team, the soccer team and the wrestlers would be able to receive letters.

It was moved and passed that 13 men from the soccer team will letter.

A motion was made to the effect that the Christmas formal be held off campus on December 4. It was passed.

Santa Ana Frolic

It was decided by the council that SAC be represented in the Santa Ana Frolic by a float. The sophomore class will be in charge of the float.

The board voted to send bookstore manager, Lloyd Hamilton, to a special bookstore managers association meeting in San Francisco.

Art Club to Hold Open House

Ernest Van Harlingen, Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts in England, will be the guest speaker at the Art Club's Open House, Wednesday, November 18.

Van Harlingen, a lecturer, water colorist and former director of the Crocker Art Gallery in Sacramento, California will give a demonstration speech. Following the speech a question - answer session on painting techniques will be held.

Admission to the event which will be held in room B-44 is free. Refreshments will be served.

Brian Dean, president of Alpha Rho Tau (Art Club) reported that they would welcome anyone who is interested in art and who wishes to attend the open house.

Pancake Breakfast Plans in Progress

Linda Bright and Don Bissonnette, AWS and AMS presidents, are working on plans for a pancake breakfast to be held the weekend following Thanksgiving.

The co-sponsored breakfast will be held on the Ralph's parking lot in Honor Plaza on 17th Street and Bristol Ave.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Tustin Boy's Club.

Circle K Directory On Sale in Union

For the fourth year in a row the Circle K Student Directory is available to students.

The directory published by the Circle K is on sale today and all next week in the student union and Don bookstore for 35 cents.

Circle K vice president Bill Hammond has announced that the 60 page book is complete with names, addresses and telephone numbers of all enrolled students and has the 1959-60 Don basketball schedule as an added feature.

DON BISSONNETTE, AMS President and Chairman of Bill of Rights Week at Santa Ana College, confers with Bill Lives, Fullerton College AS President and Robert Light, President of Southern California Broadcasters Association, about plans for the big contest.

Bill of Rights Week Observed by Dons

In order to create an awareness of the freedom and liberty which is ours under the Bill of Rights, Bill of Rights Week will be observed at Santa Ana College.

Don Bissonnette, associated men student president, has charge of the college observance. He met with a committee at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles.

100,000 students enrolled in Southland universities, colleges, and junior colleges will participate.

A $500 cash scholarship will be awarded to a student whose program is judged the best from the standpoint of how many students it has reached, the best understanding of our individual responsibilities for the maintenance of our freedoms, and originality.

The student to receive the scholarship will be chosen by the winning institution from political science or history majors or from students active in student body affairs whose leadership evinces outstanding knowledge of democratic government.

Savings bonds will be awarded to the five students who write the best essay of 1500 words or less on the subject of "My Personal Responsibility Under the Bill of Rights." The essays will be judged on understanding of the subject and expression of the entrant's ideas.

All entries should have the student's name, school, and home address on the reverse side of the essay and should be typewritten.

SAC to Present Musical Program

"Rhythmic Moods in Song" is the second of four programs included in the Artists' Series at Santa Ana College. The musical renditions will be presented Tuesday, December 1 in Phillips Hall at 8:30.

Produced by Miss Susan Brenner, former SAC student, the presentation will include music from Brahms, Falla, Ravel, Gershwin, Stel, Burleigh, and Youman.

Miss Brenner is herself a stage personality who sings in 12 languages and sings mezzo-soprano in a three octave range.

Dramatic tenor Conrad Shultz of Santa Ana will appear during the evening program with serious selections.

Other singers include Helena Mawson, Santa Ana who is a leading contralto. Kenneth Akin, Santa Ana, a former conductor of the Santa Ana Cantendo Club and musical director of First Christian Church of Santa Ana, will offer his talents at the program.

Piano solos will be presented by Edna Ahorn, Helen Fackiner, and Betty Stockwell.

Featured guitarist for the evening will be Robert Sheffer, a previous entertainer in the Artists' Series.

Recent New York arrival, Dominic Laruccia, will offer a flute solo. George Richter has been selected as the drummer for the performance. He was recently a member of the Orange County Symphony.

Marvin Fennema, fine lyric tenor, is a guest soloist for the evening. Presently, Fennema is music instructor for Fremont Jr. High in Anaheim and tenor soloist for the First Methodist Church in Santa Ana.

Other features on the Artists' Drama and Music Series, sponsored by the Associated Students are

"The Show-Off," by George Kelly, presented by the College Players Jan. 14, 15, 16; Miss Yaltah Menuhin, violinist, Feb. 16; Victor Moreno, Spanish dancer and troupe, March 31, April 1, 2; and "Lute Song," May 19, 20, 21, by the College Players.

Miss Shinkle and her princesses, Roses Kokx, Della Kahn and Judy Warnke reigned over Saturday's reunions and the Homecoming Dance.

A large group of former instructors joined present instructors and former students for eight class reunions in the Nealley Library. Miner Whitford, '34 student president and poultry ranch owner in Orange, served as alumni chairman.

Exhibits on display in the library included yearbooks, newspapers, directories, photographs and other data from earlier years.

Spotlight on Sports

PREDICTION: The Dons will beat Chaffey tonight.

And how do we reach this seemingly bold conclusion after they were roughed about by Riverside last week?

Easy — it's their turn to win a game. Yep, they've been taking turns all season. Rather sporting of the local yokels, don't you think?

Let's rehash the season to date.

Stomp Marines

Santa Ana opened up in the Bowl by stomping a hapless crew of Marines from El Toro, 30-0. The Dons weren't spectacular, but at least they were off on the right foot.

Favored to make it two in a row, our heroes were a little too hospitable to Long Beach City College. Result — Vikings 10, Dons 8.

Underdog

Now the Dons took the role of underdog for the first time when they moved into Pirate Stadium for a clash with undefeated Orange Coast. Homer Beatty's men rose to the occasion to whip their arch rivals, 22-2, in the Eastern Conference launcher.

Are you getting the picture? A good game, a bad game, a good game . . .

Next the heavily favored Dons traveled to Azusa for a bout with the Citrus Owls. The Owls proved rude hosts by shutting out SAC, 14-0, and thereby adding to the red light, green light season for the stop and go Dons.

Scalp Indians

El Don's next opponent was San Bernardino, a rough customer who was unbeaten in four games and who, reportedly, was fielding its best football team in years. You guessed it! The Dons swamped 'em, 22-8.

So Santa Ana was back in the EC flag race with a 2-1 conference record after making one of its best showings of the year against the Indians.

But the Dons couldn't shake the jinx and fell to Riverside, 13-6, last week in the Bowl.

Dons To Win

Even though powerful Chaffey is the current conference leader with a 3-1 record while the poor Dons are 2-2, we confidently pick SAC to upset the Panthers.

Why does Santa Ana keep right on maintaining this strange hit and miss pattern? It's a mystery to us.

Don Harriers Romp In San Diego Meet

After notching up another impressive win at the Aztec Invitational in San Diego last week, Santa Ana College's crack cross country team will get in its final practice licks Friday before the Eastern Conference Meet at Citrus next week.

The Dale Story paced Dons travel to San Bernardino for a quadrangular encounter with the Indians, Fullerton, and Chaffey.

Story — Whole Story

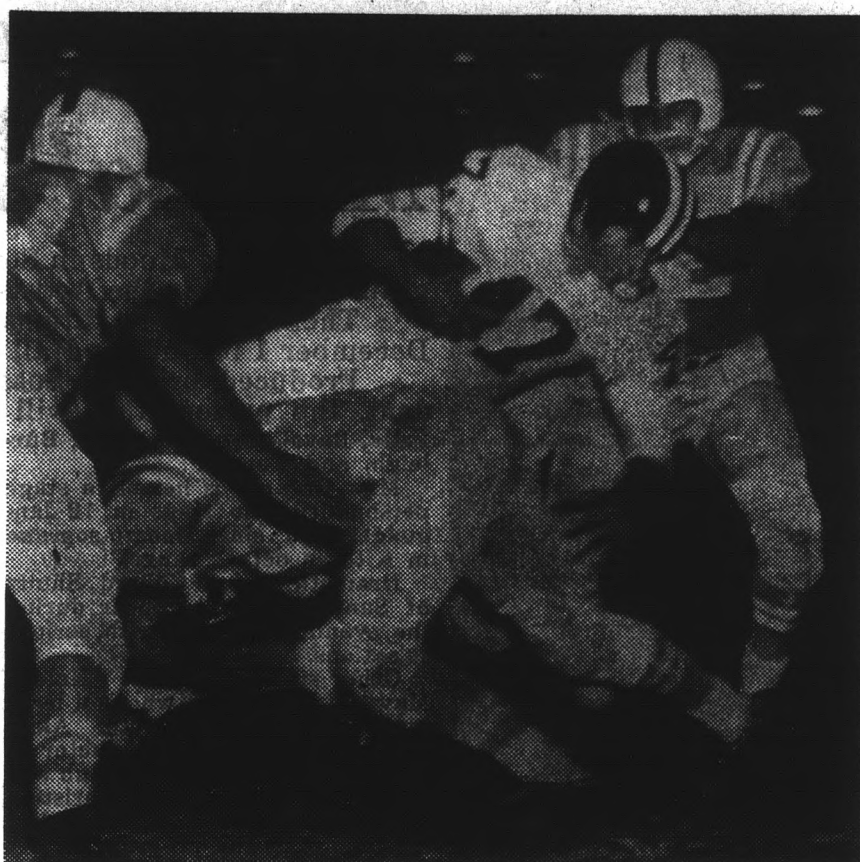

Last week Story again led coach John Ward's harriers when he finished first in the Aztec affair. The former Orange High star toured the distance in 16:39, two seconds off the San Diego State course record.

Santa Ana posted 39 points, lowest in the field of five. Next came Mt. SAC, 59, Orange Coast, 93, Cerritos, 95, and Glendale, 97.

Aid Romp

The Dons' Ernie Verdugo, Max Cheney, and Bill Hudson finished fifth, sixth, and seventh to aid the SAC romp.

Beaten only once in all cross country competition this year, the Dons should be the favorites in the conference meet next week. Bakersfield was the only team to defeat them in the Mt. SAC Invitational.

INJURED IN BATTLE. The Dons will be without the services of fullback Ron Johnson (47) tonight at Chaffey. Johnson was sidelined with two cracked ribs in last week's loss to Riverside. (Photo by Baum)

Riverside Upsets Dons' Homecoming

With the traffic at the top of the Eastern Conference standings getting more congested than the freeway system at the interchange, the Santa Ana College football team will have to find driving room on one of the side streets after bowing to Riverside in the Dons' Homecoming tilt, 13-6, last Friday night in the Bowl.

The loss gave the Dons a 2-2 slate and knocked them out of EC contention.

Booster Shot

Meanwhile Riverside's win was the booster shot the Tigers needed to keep their hopes high for the conference crown.

Twice the Dons drove inside the Bengal's five yard line only to be thrust back by a spirited Tiger line.

Looking like they were out to snatch the conference top spot early, the Dons scored the game's first touchdown on the first play of the second quarter when halfback Leroy Whittle hit Gary Underwood with an 11 yard roll out pass. Jim Braly set it up with his interception on the Riverside 17.

Tigers Roar

The Tigers roared right back with the ensuing kickoff and powerful fullback Bob Jackson capped a 13-play, 73 yard drive with his three yard end run. Joe Lewis added the conversion and it appeared as if the half would end, 7-6.

However, the Bengals fooled everyone in the Bowl by coming back with an 80 yard march in 11 plays as tailback Weldon Rutledge supplied the clincher on a four yard sweep with just 19 seconds remaining in the half.

For all practical purposes, the Dons might just as well have gone to the Homecoming Dance during intermission.

Besides being Riverside's chief offensive threat, Jackson was also a standout on defense as he made a countless number of tackles from his middle linebacker position.

Big Rush

Riverside had a big rushing edge, 257-127, but Santa Ana outgained the Tigers in the air. SAC went five for 13 for 61 yards while the visitors completed two of six for 24 yards.

Officials paced off 97 yards against Riverside, and "only" 71 against the Dons.

Whittle Fifth In EC Rushing

Santa Ana College halfback Leroy Whittle moved up into fifth place in the Eastern Conference rushing department according to official EC statistics released Tuesday.

The Don flash from Berkeley High gained 79 yards against Riverside Friday night and has now amassed 325 yards in four games. Orange Coast's Hank Enriquez is first with 454 in five games.

As a team, the Dons are second in total defense, having allowed only 795 yards. Mt. SAC has given up 769.

Injured Ron Johnson dropped to third in the scoring race behind Riverside's Bob Jackson and San Bernardino's Tom Gates. Johnson has 26 points to 36 for Jackson and 30 for Gates.

Gridders Take Spoiler's Role

Virtually out of the Eastern Conference flag race after last week's 13-6 defeat to Riverside, Santa Ana College's Dons will try to take the role of spoilers Friday night when they travel to Ontario to meet league leading Chaffey.

It will be the last away from home game for Santa Ana this season.

Top Scorer

Homer Beatty's Dons, now 2-2 in conference play and 3-3 on the season will have to cope with the most potent scoring machine in the Eastern Conference. Chaffey has totaled 74 points in four games.

San Bernardino has 75 and Riverside, 72, but each has engaged in five frays.

Defeated for the first time this season last week by San Bernardino, 12-7, the Panthers are tied with Mt. SAC for the conference top spot with a 3-1 slate.

Last week the Dons lost their second starting back in as many games when fullback Ron Johnson was sidelined with cracked ribs. Earlier quarterback Jay Stromgren was declared out for the season with an injured knee.

Versatile Attack

Led by fleet halfback Alan Nelson, coach Bill Gable's Panthers have been one of the EC's surprises this year. Nelson is the top rusher and scorer in the versatile Chaffey attack.

Added incentive for both teams is the fact that each has won ten games since they started knocking heads with each other back in 1917. There has been two ties.

Last year Santa Ana whipped the Panthers, 38-12, in the Dons' Homecoming tilt at Santa Ana Bowl.

Besides setting up a defense to stop Nelson, the Dons will also have to watch the passing of quarterback Dick Hunter, the second leading aerial artist in the conference.

Beatty made several switches for tonight's game. He moved Ed Hernandez from tackle to fullback and John Bell from center to starting tackle. Halfback Mickey Flynn dropped out of school.

El Don, Pomona In Soccer Tilt

After suffering their second soccer defeat of the season and third in the past two years the Don soccer club will try to rebound this Saturday against Pomona on Don Field. Kickoff time is 10:00 a.m.

Caltech of Pasadena brought El Don back to earth with a sound 4-2 defeat of the high flying Don unit that had clipped mighty UCLA 2-1 the week before.

The Dons took a 2-0 lead at Pasadena on goals by Samad Navabpour and Bill Kragten but Caltech struck back for four tallies in the second half knocking the Don record in Southern California Soccer Assn. competition to 3-2-1.

Last year the Dons lost only once, bowing to UCLA in the final game of the season 2-0.
